Wal-Mart Health Clinics

Wal-Mart Stores announced on Tuesday that it intends to contract with local hospitals and other organizations to open some 400 in-store health clinics.

Although nothing has yet been determined for our area, we wanted to share this information with you.

In addition to added business, Wal-Mart feels that this will help address the strong need for access to local, affordable health care.

We'll be sure keep you posted as further developments arise.
